

NEW PARTY PLAN IS AGREED UPON

IMPORTANT ACTION TAKEN BY POPULIST CONFERENCE.

Explained in a Manifesto—The Conference Decides to Sever All Connection With the National Committee and To Take Independent Political Action in the Future.

St. Louis, Jan. 14.—A new party was born Thursday night in the conference of the Populists and named the People's party.

The People's party proposes to go it alone. It has severed all connections with the national Populist committee and made all arrangements for administering its own estate without the aid or advice of any outside party. With a few exceptions the delegates declared themselves unequivocally in favor of going it alone in the future.

The referendum system was most highly complimented and recommended for use among the middle-of-the-roads in settling matters of national importance to the order. There was a practical agreement among the delegates that a national convention should be held this year.

The entire afternoon and evening was spent in lengthy discussion, and it was not until a late hour that the mode of procedure for future action was agreed upon.

Finally a report was adopted, in part as follows:

"To the People of the United States:—The fusion movement consummated at St. Louis in July, 1896, and the inexcusable treatment of our candidate for vice-president in the campaign that followed gave rise to such dissatisfaction among the rank and file of the People's party as to threaten the absolute dismemberment of the only political organization honestly contending for the social and political rights of the laboring and producing classes of the country.

"It has been the purpose always of the committee to be courteous to the national committee, and our supreme desire has been at all times to promote a harmonious co-operation with said committee, in order that factional differences might be obliterated, our party prestige regained and our organization restored to its once splendid estate. This committee feels confident of its ability to show that it is no fault of ours that the national committee is not present as a body today, but it does not choose to waste valuable time in wrangling over questions of official etiquette. We avow it to be our sincere purpose, now as ever heretofore, to promote in every honorable way the reform movement on true Populist lines, and we deem the issues too momentous and the dangers threatening free government too imminent to allow us to pause to consider personal grievances or affronts, or to permit wounded dignity, real or imaginary, to overshadow patriotic duties.

"Under present conditions our beloved organization is slowly but surely disintegrating, and our comrades are clamorous for aggressive action. Having in vain importuned those who assumed to be our superiors to permit us to aid them in the grand work of reorganizing the People's party, that it may accomplish its glorious mission, we now appeal to the people, the true source of all political power."

A number of rules were adopted for the government of the national organization committee. Among them is a rule that the national organization committee shall submit to a vote of the People's party and proposition when petitioned to do so by not less than 10,000 members of the party. This concluded the work of the conference.

COAL OPERATORS ANXIOUS.

Watch the Proceedings at Columbus, Ohio, with Much Interest.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 14.—It is probable that no former convention of the United Mine Workers' Union of America has ever attracted the attention of the coal operators to the extent that the one has that is now in session in this city. Operators are arriving from all parts of the east and south, and while none of them has put in an appearance in the convention hall, all are closely following the proceedings. The report of the scale committee will be made in executive session probably Saturday, but it is said the action will be carefully guarded from the operators, and the first official information they will receive will be in the interstate conference of operators and miners in Chicago Monday.

One question that will interest the mine operators everywhere is the evident determination of the miners to insist on a scale for machine mining. An indication of the manner in which the miners will act at the Chicago conference was gained this afternoon from a speech by John McBride, who said that in Ohio while the number of men employed had decreased nearly one-half in the last five years the output had doubled, all owing to the introduction of machinery. He advised that in the meeting in Chicago the men select those whom they desired to do their talking, and that no others be drawn into a discussion with operators.

Five Entombed in a Tunnel.
Butte, Mont., Jan. 14.—Two terrific explosions in the tunnel for the flume near the upper smelting works in Anaconda occurred Wednesday night. Five men were working there and were probably killed. A large crew is now at work clearing the tunnel. The names of the men entombed in the tunnel are: Andrew Ulscher, Mike Cozina, Mat Petritz, Mat Cozina, Joe M'Leod of Butte.

His Balloon Believed to Have Been Seen in British Columbia.

Stockholm, Jan. 14.—Prof. Norden-skjold, the arctic explorer, has informed the Swedish Academy of Science that the foreign office has received intelligence that several persons worthy of credence saw Prof. Andree's balloon, early in August, in British Columbia, seven miles north of Quesnelle lake, in the district of Cariboo. The professor regards the news as being of sufficient importance to call for closer investigation.

And Is Still Alive.

George Elliot, the great novelist, lived for some of her later years in that populous land of artists which lies between Witley and Haslemere, in Surrey. Her residence was on the "Hights," overlooking that vast woodland scene which Birket Foster has reproduced in so many charming illustrations. With the rural Surrey folk the novelist was greatly pleased, and their dialect seemed to her as rich and racy as that of the Midlands rusticities of her early years. She would repeat with glee one quaint Surrey villager's remark: "Oh, ma'am, what I have gone through with my husband! He is so uneducated; he never had a tail-coat in his life!"—Household Words.

Japanese Importations.

The attractive bead and rattan portieres imported from Japan have still another use; as yet they have been, for the most part, hung in a narrow doorway, to half conceal, half reveal the room beyond. At present they are sometimes employed, instead of voluminous draperies, at the window. They act as an effective screen, while they by no means shut out either the light or the air, as do the muffing folds of heavy materials.—New York Post.

Split by Bursting Saw.

A circular saw burst in the spoke and heading factory of B. C. Ackerman, at Marion, Ind., resulting in the instant death of Will Patterson, 19 years of age. Pieces of the shattered saw split him almost in twain from his waist to the top of his head.

Court Stands by a Railroad

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Judge Clifford set aside the verdict awarded to Fred R. Ketcham for $21,666 for alleged "black-listing" by the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company by a jury in his court Nov. 18 and remanded the case back for a new trial. The court said that the reviewing court would need nothing more than a mere inspection of the verdict to set it aside. Ketcham was a freight conductor and sued the Northwestern for $25,000 damages. The case grew out of the great railway strike.

Democrats Caucus at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 14.—The Democratic caucus decided that the Democrats would vote for no revenue measure which did not contain section 6 of the one prepared by Mr. Crompton, Democrat. This section taxes debts of record, such as mortgages. Another section of the same measure which the caucus decided to stand by was No. 13, which provides that all promissory notes must be listed before May 1 of each year and stamped by the assessors.

Hill Is Still a Democrat.

New York, Jan. 14.—A local paper in an article discussing the probability of former Senator David B. Hill seeking to regain the Democratic leadership in this state, quotes Mr. Hill as having said in New York within the last week: "Is it true that I took no active part in the presidential canvass of 1896, but I voted the straight Democratic ticket just the same."

Do Lome Says All Is Quiet.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Senor de Lome, the Spanish minister, has received dispatches from Dr. Congosto, the secretary-general of Cuba, stating that there had been an outbreak in Havana, but that it was over and that no apprehension was felt of further trouble of a serious nature.

British Ships on the Move.

Hong Kong, Jan. 14.—The British torpedo boat destroyers Hart and Hardy, conveyed by the dispatch vessel Alacrity, have been ordered northward. The homeward orders of the British first-class cruiser Edgard have been countermanded.

RIOT IN HAVANA HAS BEEN QUELLED

SPANISH TROOPS RESTORING PEACE.

Warships Are Not Needed—Officials At Washington Are of the Opinion That Further Trouble Is Unlikely—Strong Naval Force Could Be Quickly Mustered.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Late Thursday afternoon a telegram came to the state department from United States Consul-General Lee saying that everything was quiet in Havana and that there was no cause for apprehension of trouble.

Orders have been sent to the Marblehead to proceed to Navassa to investigate conditions among the laborers there, thus disposing of rumors that she would be ordered to Cuba.

Gen. Lee has reported to the state department the facts connected with the rioting in Havana. While the state department officials do not divulge the text of the dispatch, it is said that it corroborates generally the newspaper reports on the subject.

Although there is no expectation at the navy department of any trouble just now, still in case it should occur the navy is more strongly represented in Florida and West Indian waters than it has been in the last ten years.

It is authoritatively stated at the navy department that the southern movement of the squadron is in no degree attributable to the troubles in Havana, but that the movement is a part of the program for winter maneuvers of the squadron prepared by the navy department months ago, after consultation with Admiral Sigsbee and Capt. Taylor and duly announced at the time.

Has Not Asked for Vessels.

Havana, Jan. 14.—The United States consul-general, Fitzhugh Lee, absolutely denies that he has asked the authorities at Washington to send two war vessels to Havana.

FORTY-SIX VICTIMS.

Believed More Bodies Will Be Recovered at Fort Smith, Ark.

Fort Smith, Ark., Jan. 14.—The effects of the tornado are becoming more manifest every hour as more dead and injured are taken from the ruins. With Thursday's finds the dead bodies number forty-six and the injured exceed 100. Many of the injured cannot recover. Many more are supposed to be buried beneath the ruins.

A relief fund has been raised to help the destitute. Many of the victims who escaped with their lives saved little else. Their homes were destroyed, furniture demolished and clothing ruined.

Populists Want Pingree.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 14.—The state central committee of the Populist party held a meeting here Thursday to discuss the situation in the state. They disclaim all sympathy with the "middle of the road" Populists. It developed at the meeting that much in the way of widening the breach between the Pingree and so-called federal factions of the Republican party is expected from the extra session of the legislature soon to be held, and that some of the members are hopeful that the result will be either the failure to renominate Gov. Pingree or his repudiation of the party. In either event the Populists want to be in line to espouse his cause and make him their nominee for governor if his consent could be gained.

Church Work of Last Year.

New York, Jan. 14.—The forty-fifth annual report of the board of trustees of the Congregational Church-Building society shows that the record of work, receipts and expenditures for the year 1897 easily takes the highest place in the history of the society during the last forty-five years. The board has voted $296,495 to 166 churches. There was paid to 116 churches $232,233 in the form of grants or loans on houses of worship. The board has voted $35,190 in parsonage loans to fifty-seven churches and thirty-eight churches have been paid $21,867 in parsonage loans. The whole amount received into the church-building fund is $412,883.

Threaten to Lynch Thieves.

Veedsburg, Ind., Jan. 14.—The citizens of this place are threatening to take the law into their own hands as did the people of Versailles a few months ago. Alan Curtis, under arrest for burglary, has been removed to the jail at Covington for safe keeping. Sam Pearson, who was arrested as an accomplice of Curtis, jumped through a window, taking the sash with him, and is hiding now in one of the mines.

Everett Falls to Get Bail.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 14.—Charles E. Everett, the Fort Wayne politician, who was arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses, is lying in the jail in this city, being unable to furnish bail and secure his release. ## ONE DAY'S EVENTS AT THE CAPITAL

BUSINESS TRANSACTED IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

McKenna Wins a Victory—Judiciary Committee Decides to Report Favorably His Nomination For Attorney General—To Increase the Efficiency of the Militia.

Washington, Jan. 14.—In the house Thursday consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill was completed in committee of the whole, and then the house adjourned upon the motion of those opposed to the printing of another edition of the famous "horse book." There was the annual fight over the question of free seed distribution to the farmers, but the effort to strike out the appropriation ($130,000) failed as usual, the majority against it being 136. One of the important amendments adopted provided for the inspection of horse meat for export purposes in the same way that the meat of cattle and other animals is now inspected. During the debate some very caustic criticism of the proceedings in the senatorial election in Ohio from Mr. De Armond (Democrat, Mo.) called forth a warm defense of Senator Hanna from Mr. Mahany (Republican, N. Y.), who eulogized the Ohio senator as the man who had overthrown the bosses of the Republican party in 1896.

In the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Among the measures reported in the senate Thursday was the pension appropriation bill. It was placed on the calendar at the conclusion of the morning business. The immigration bill, the unfinished business, was then taken up, and Mr. Caffery made a strong speech in opposition to the measure. At the conclusion of Mr. Caffery's speech the senate went into executive session.

No Vote Against Mr. McKenna.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The nomination of Attorney General McKenna to be a justice of the United States Supreme court was reported to the senate Thursday, and Senator Hoar sought to have it acted upon. Objection was made, however, and it went over. The judiciary committee decided to report favorably the nomination.

Plan to Reorganize the Militia.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The house committee on militia instructed Chairman Marsh to invite the committee of three appointed by the convention of adjutant generals of militia at St. Louis last May to call on the committee on the 27th inst. to discuss the reorganization of the militia throughout the United States.

Robinson of West Virginia and W. H. Crawford of Ohio. W. C. Pearce of Ohio was re-elected secretary without opposition.

Trial Lasts Only Two Hours.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 14.—John W. Stone, the slayer of Frank Kahler, was tried by a jury Thursday, convicted, and sentenced to the insane department of the Anamosa penitentiary, and arrived at the penitentiary at 10:45 at night. The trial lasted two hours.

Michigan Republican Editors.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 14.—The Republican editors of the state commenced a two-days meeting here Thursday night. The attendance is large. It is evident that the principal topic to be discussed is that pertaining to the Republican nomination for governor.

Want No Wine at Washington.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 14.—The Anti-Saloon League adopted resolutions condemning the interpretation of the law by public officials which permitted wine and beer in the capital restaurants, requesting President McKinley to refrain from using liquor in the state dinners, and condemning the sale of liquor in the Indian reservations.

GOV. SHAW SWORN IN.

Assumes Control in Iowa—His Inaugural Speech.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 14.—L. M. Shaw took the oath of office as governor of Iowa Thursday. Between 5,000 and 7,000 people gathered at the state house to see him ushered into office, and they filled every foot of available space in the rotunda of the state house, the corridors and the balconies. The address of Gov. Shaw, in part, follows:

"It seems to be conceded by business men and statesmen as well that our national currency needs reformation. That the gold standard should be maintained was the verdict of 1896 by 1,000,000 majority. No one presumes to recommend a contraction of the currency. No one would limit us to the use of gold as a medium of exchange. All that is claimed, and all that inheres in the verdict of 1896, is that the value of each dollar of United States currency, whether coin or paper, shall be the value of 25.8 grains of standard gold.

"If the national banks were empowered to issue currency to the full value of the bonds deposited for their security, with a reduction in the tax upon their circulation sufficient to make it profitable, and then made directly or indirectly responsible for the maintenance of the parity of this circulation, and the redemption thereof in gold, it is difficult to conceive how the credit of the nation could be imperiled whatever might become of the banks.

"Now, to maintain the parity of the greenback, the government is compelled at every threatened invasion of our credit to sell government bonds, but having none on hand, it issues more, and increases the public debt. Which is preferable? Each form of currency is supported by the government's credit. We are now banking at government peril. We would then bank at the peril of the banks themselves, and the circulation would be maintained as stable as gold. Our paper currency in either instance would rest upon the market value of a government bond.

"Should any one of the several plans for currency reform now proposed be adopted, it would go far toward rendering a panic, such as we have recently seen, at least a remote possibility."

Speaking of the duty of citizens to the state, the governor said:

"Should anything connected with the affairs of state within the purview of the executive department come to the knowledge of any citizen, calculated to cause a suspicion of evil, or should any discover wherein, in his opinion, the resources of the state are being extravagantly expended, it should be his duty, as it is my desire, to promptly report the same, with as much particularity as possible, to the administration, that it may be investigated and corrected if within my power; and otherwise that the attention of the legislature may be directed thereto and a speedy remedy recommended."

The house and senate adjourned to their respective halls, and both houses adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Each House Holds a Short Session, but Nothing Is Accomplished.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 14.—Thursday's session of the senate lasted but five minutes. The only business that came before that body was Senator Crawford's primary election bill, which came up as a special order. Consideration of an amendment offered was postponed until next Tuesday. The senate then adjourned to 9 o'clock this morning.

In the house Mr. McEniry moved to reconsider the vote by which his gas and electric light tax bill failed to pass. He then moved that the further consideration be postponed until next Wednesday. This motion prevailed. The house adjourned to 10 o'clock this morning.

Evidence Against Draper.

Jacksonville, Ill., Jan. 14.—Testimony unfavorable to Draper's case was given Thursday by Dr. W. K. McLaughlin. The physician's testimony made Draper's plea of self-defense weak in many places. He described the cuts found on Hastings' body, and declared the first cut, from its peculiarity, must have been made while the man inflicting it was grasped from behind. A number of witnesses testified to seeing Draper after he had left the office in which the murder was committed. They said his clothing was covered with blood, and it was generally supposed at the time that he had been in a fight.

Cleveland Urges Clemency.

BIG LUMBER PILES GO UP IN SMOKE

HOT FIRE RAGES AT ELAND JUNCTION.

One of the Henry Sherry Corporations Meets With a Heavy Loss—Tramps Thought to Have Set the Blaze Which Cost $70,000—Woman Is Fatally Burned.

Eland Junction, Wis., Jan. 14.—[Special]—A fire which evidently broke out over the engine room of the mill of the Ingersoll Land & Lumber Company, three miles from this place, destroyed most of the lumber representing the cut of the past season, last night. The loss is estimated at $70,000.

The Ingersoll Land & Lumber Company is a Henry Sherry Corporation, and the mill had not been run since Mr. Sherry made an assignment.

It is thought the fire was of incendiary origin, probably the work of tramps.

SEEKING CURRENCY REFORM.

Members of Monetary Commission in Washington.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The hearing of the monetary commission in behalf of its bill for currency reform was resumed before the banking and currency committee of the house Thursday.

T. J. Bush of Alabama urged the ease of redemption under the plan of the commission.

The examination of ex-Secretary Fairchild was then resumed. Mr. Cox of Tennessee propounded a series of questions to Mr. Fairchild. Technically, he agreed with Mr. Cox that the silver certificates were simply warehouse certificates, but practically they were used indiscriminately and fulfilled all the functions of any other class of money. Under the commission's plan the ex-secretary said, the banks could redeem notes in any lawful money.

Robert S. Taylor of Fort Wayne, Ind., spoke in behalf of the bill prepared by the monetary commission. Taylor carefully elucidated the provisions of the bill.

In the course of his remarks he said: "It is time to close the debate. This bill enacted into law, will afford the people of the country a sense of security, a sense of confidence which is a whole bible of finance."

SENATOR HANNA WORN OUT.

His Physicians Have Ordered Him to Take a Complete Rest.

Columbus, O., Jan. 14.—Senator Hanna left Thursday for his home at Cleveland, where he will remain over Sunday. His physician insists upon his taking a rest. The strain on him here for two weeks has worn on him severely.

The republicans are to make an effort to reorganize the house. There may be some doubt about Boxwell being put in the speaker's chair, but there is no doubt that an effort will be made to oust Speaker Mason and all elected on the Kurtz combine ticket.

The republican senators cannot undertake such proceedings. That body consists of eighteen republicans and eighteen democrats. By Senator Burke voting with the democrats it has stood 19 to 17 on organization, on the senatorship and on everything else.

In the meantime the bribery investigations are to proceed in both houses on charges from both sides of the contending factions.

Mascoutah, Ill., Jan. 14.—The coal miners' strike inaugurated at the Alma mines a week ago on account of the appointment of James Carson, the deposed state president of the Miners' Union, as mine superintendent, has been settled, and the men returned to work. New Electric Alarm Bell Put In at the C. M. & St. P. Crossing at Milton Which Will Prevent Future Accidents—Rent the Fairfield Creamery—The Week at Shopiere.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY
W. W. CLARKE, Manager,
Milton, Wis., Jan. 14, 1898.

Workmen in the employ of the St. Paul company, are here installing the new electric crossing signals at this station. It is operated by a thirteen cell Edison battery, and is automatic in its action. The current is communicated by a wire, attached to the rail, at the switch near Featherston's mill on the main line, and on the Mineral Point division, west, and a half mile beyond the depot, east. Both crossings on the park will be protected by this signal, which is a bell, located on the "lookout post" at Burdick's crossing. When these points of connection with the rail, both east and west, are passed by trains, the bell gives its warning signal, continuing until the engine has passed over the crossing. Over four miles of wire will be used in constructing the signal. This is something that has long been needed here for the protection of the public and the St. Paul company has the thanks of every citizen for its efforts to prevent accidents at these dangerous crossings. The signal will be in working order next week.

JOHN KELLY HAS A FINE STABLE

JANESVILLE TRAINER'S GOOD PROSPECTS.

Millionaire Butler Got the Best Horses That Money Would Buy For His Stock Farm—Direct To Be Out Again—Baron Crisp All Right—The List.

John Kelly, who is in charge of the training of the trotters and pacers owned by James Butler, the New York millionaire, will have one of the strongest stable in the country next year. Butler owns "Eastview Stock Farm" at Eastview, New York. Joseph L. Heald is working for Mr. Kelly, and writes that the latter is "joggling" forty-five horses and preparing them for next year's campaign. He says Mr. Kelly has good material to work on, as the horses are as high a grade as money can buy.

Mr. Kelly will be out with the black champion, Direct, 2:05½ next year, thinks he can lower the record with him. Mr. Kelly drove this horse to his record while handling the Salisbury stable and knows the wonderful pacer thoroughly.

The Baron All Right.

Baron Crisp, the horse that Mr. Kelly drove to so many victories last year, will be in the harness again, the coming season. Mr. Kelly won every race in which the Baron started, and it was conceded that the "M. and M. stake" worth $10,000 would be a walkaway for the son of Baron Wilkes. A few days before the race the horse met with an accident, however, and had to be retired. Mr. Heald now writes, however, that the Baron is sound and all right, and that Mr. Kelly now expects great things of him when the grand circuit opens.

Mr. Butler is much interested in horses, and has the money to gratify his taste. He owns seventy-eight retail grocery stores in New York, Boston, and Chicago, as well as a wholesale house. He recently offered to contribute $100,000 toward a new race track in New York.

There are 125 horses at his farm. Mr. Kelly is head trainer and superintendent and has as many assistants as he desires. Mr. Kelly and Mr. Heald do all the driving in preparing the horses for the fray. Will Bradley and Duane Thomas, who worked for Mr. Heald here are now at Eastview.

DIXEY'S FINE PERFORMANCE

The Actor-Magician Pleased a Large Audience Last Evening.

Somebody down east said that the greatest piece of magic about the Henry Dixey show was how Dixey himself became a magician. That captious writer never noticed the Adonis man's fingers. They are slender and supple—each finger six inches long; each with four joints and a brain of its own. They are just the fingers for legerdemain and they did remarkable things last night. Some were the things every magician does but they were done especially well. The rabbits that came from the orchestra leader's ear were unusually plump and lively, the chickens found in a man's vest pocket squawked with exceptional vigor and the dry goods and millinery shot out from the smooth bore pistol rivalled a holiday sale in richness and variety.

The mechanical illusions offered during the evening were very effective. An amusing sketch was "Pierrot Among the Yogi." Mr. Dixey also gave the audience twenty minutes of his old work from "Seven Ages."

Orchestral music of a more elaborate sort than has been Janesville's portion of late was a feature of the performance. The new Fleck orchestra was heard for the first time. The standard of the selections was high, and the music was received with manifest pleasure by the large audience. W. M. Fleck, the leader, will make Janesville his home, hereafter, and will give to opera house work the benefit of his years of experience. As the list of members published last evening would indicate the orchestra includes none but thoroughly competent musicians.

CREMA, the new 5 cent cigar at Sanborn's has pleased every trial so far.

the gold country and look after the working of his numerous claims. Franklin is a Canadian who began his wanderings in Alaska and the Northwest Territories as long ago as 1883 and in June of that year made a strike in what has since come to be known as Franklin gulch.

LUCKNOW AND CAWNPORE.

How the Cities of the Awful Mutiny Look To-Day.
Of the three cities in which the greatest scenes of the mutiny were enacted Lucknow is today by far the most beautiful. Where the cruellest deeds in the bitter tragedy of Cawnpore were done a fair garden was laid out, and into this no native is permitted to come, says the London Telegraph. A cross of white marble upon a black pedestal stands to mark the site of Nana Sahib's Bibighar, or women's quarters, in which, at his brutal orders, the English women and children were done to death. Over the well there stands now Baron Marchetti's lovely figure of the Angel of the Resurrection; with the text "These are they which come out of great tribulation," while the inscription, written by the late Lord Elgin, runs: "Sacred to the memory of a great company of Christian people, chiefly women and children, who, near this spot, were cruelly massacred by the followers of the rebel Nana of Bithoor, and cast, the dying with the dead, into the well below." But, outside, Cawnpore is the Manchester of India, doing a huge trade in cotton, saddlery and boots. At Delhi the most striking and impressive memorial is the battered Cashmere gate and bastions, preserved with infinite care exactly as it was after Lieuts. Home and Salkeld, three sergeants and a bugler boy, blew that narrow breach in it, at the cost of every life but one, through which Campbell's column entered the city. Lucknow, however, is a very garden of gardens. It has its delightful parks, and round every European bungalow are wide pleasaunces, in which gorgeous crotons, wonderful climbing plants, hibiscus stephanotis and the delicate mauve bougainvillias make splendid color. Before the beautifully kept grounds of the residency there stands the handsome obelisk erected by Lord Northbrook, while vicerey, to those native officers and sepoys who remained faithful, with inscriptions in Hindoo and Hindustani. Within are other memorials, but the first object of every visitor's pilgrimage are the residency itself and the cemetery. The shot-riddled crumbling walls of the former tell their own eloquent story, and it is with subdued and thoughtful feelings that one mounts the tower whence such eager watch was kept. A very small tablet marks the room in which Lawrence died. In the graveyard are the resting places of those men, women and little children, who died or were killed, and were laid there at night by loving hands, so persistent was the firing in the daytime. The gardener in charge brings a lovely little bouquet of roses and lavender blue plumbago, in case the visitor desires to take away a souvenir of a spot so mournful, so tragic. But surely one would rather cast it in respect upon the marble slab recording in his own words that "Here lies Henry Lawrence, who tried to do his duty. May the Lord have mercy on his soul."

The Sultan and Our Missionaries.
The Porte has demanded the recall of two American missionaries from the province of Aleppo, on the pretext that their mission for distribution of relief is likely to cause disturbances. "The sick man of Europe," as he is derisively termed, is as unreasonable as his political health is feeble. As a bright contrast to his obstinacy and stupidity, the people of America are acknowledging far and wide the beneficence of the mission of Foster's St. Mark Bazaar, namely, to relieve and prevent malaria, rheumatism and kidney complaint, chronic dyspepsia, constipation and liver trouble. The nervous, the weak and the infirm derive unspeakable benefit from its use, and it greatly mitigates those infirmities specially incident to advancing years. Sleep, appetite, and a sensation of comfort throughout the system, ensue upon its use, which should be regular and persistent. An early resort to this fine preventive is logically suggested to those who seek its aid.

Up to Date Indians.
A camp-meeting of 2,000 Indians was held a few weeks since in South Dakota, and among the questions discussed were many having a social and educational as well as a religious bearing. "What Can be Done to Decrease the Mortality of the Indian Race?" "What are the Best Means and Methods of Educating Our Children?" "How the Indian Churches are to be Made Self-supporting," were among the subjects discussed, the Indians entering into the argument with intelligence and ardor. Evangelical work among them is conducted by a union of the Congregational and Presbyterian churches, taking in the Sioux of North and South Dakota and Nebraska, who are found to be much more amenable to Christian influences and teachings than their old-time enemies.

SPECTRUM OF METEOR.

Obtaining It Was a Sheer Piece of Good Luck.
Harvard observatory has obtained a photograph of the spectrum of a meteor, says the Boston Herald. In other words, people can now tell what goes to make up, to some extent, the shooting star which passes so quickly that it can only be photographed by having a camera gaping open, waiting for it to cross the sky. The photograph was taken on June 18, 1897, in Arequipa, Peru, the South American station of the observatory. It was a sheer piece of good luck. Thousands of plates have been exposed to the sky, with the prism over the mouth of the camera, ready to take a spectrum of anything that traversed the heavens. The lucky plate that caught the meteor has running across it obliquely a light band of six lines, the trail of the shooting star. Without the prism the Harvard astronomers have often caught the trails of meteors passing overhead. The spectrum of the meteor taken at Arequipa shows four hydrogen lines at different colors in the spectrum and two other lines that are unknown quantities at present. Many variable stars, whose brilliancy increases or falls off from time to time, have had their spectra photographed. The four hydrogen lines of the meteor correspond to four ordinarily found in the variable star spectra. One of the unknown lines caught in the meteor spectrum also appears in those of certain variable stars. Nobody knows what element is represented by this line, as it does not correspond to any found on this earth. The photograph of the spectrum of the meteor was taken in one of the Bache telescopes with an eight-inch aperture. The instrument was arranged in the ordinary way for sky photography, with the addition of the prism for spectrum work.

Undeserved Cuff.
It was undeserved, but the circumstances were so peculiar that even the recipient of the blow must have been more amused than angry. The story is told by a London journal: The Rev. Dr. X., a popular minister, suffers from a halt in his gait, a peculiarity which he inherited from his father. One day when the reverend doctor was still a student, he was walking along Princes street, Edinburgh, in company with his father, and on coming to a path where the footway was narrowed on account of some building operations, the old gentleman stepped on before him. As they were proceeding thus, a sober-looking countryman behind them, evidently unaware of the relationship of the pair, frowned once or twice at the limping youth, and shook his head at him reprovingly. Young X. was wondering what this could mean, when he was speedily enlightened by the countryman giving him a smart box on the ear, at the same time exclaiming indignantly: "Tak' that, ye young jackanapes! Ye should be ashamed o' yourself for mimicking the auld gentleman's infirmity. Ye toothless young scoundrel, ye'll may be lame yourself some day."

Huxley and Arnold.
Dean Farrar records in his "Men I Have Known" an amusing and perfectly good-natured retort which Mr. Matthew Arnold provoked from Professor Huxley, for the better appreciation of which it may be added that the "sweetness and light" of which Mr. Arnold wrote were exemplified in his own very airy and charming manners: I sometimes met Huxley in company with Matthew Arnold, and nothing could be more delightful than the conversation elicited by their contrasted individualities. I remember a walk which I once took with them both through the pleasant grounds of Paris Hill, where Mr. Arnold's cottage was. He was asking Huxley whether he liked going out to dinner parties, and the professor answered that as a rule he did not like it at all. "Ah," said Mr. Arnold, "I rather like it. It is rather nice to meet people." "Oh, yes," replied Huxley, "but we are not all such everlasting cupids as you are!"

His Master Was a Yorkshireman.
A tourist, stopping at a small country hotel in England, seeing the hostler expert and tractable, inquired how long he had lived there and what countrymen he was. "I'm Yorkshire," said the fellow, "and ha' lived sixteen years here." "I wonder," replied the gentleman, "that in so long a period so clever a fellow as you seem to be have not come to be master of the hotel yourself." "Aye," answered the hostler, "but maister's Yorkshire, too."

TRYING ORDEALS FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Women May Avoid Painful Examinations.

To a modest, sensitive, high-strung young woman, especially an unmarried woman, there is no more trying or painful ordeal than the "examinations," which are now so common in hospitals and private practice.
An examination by speculum, or otherwise, is sometimes a positive necessity in certain stages of many diseases peculiar to women, so at least it is declared by the profession. This would not be the case if patients heeded their symptoms in time.
If a young girl's blood is watery, her skin pale and waxy looking, her lips colorless, bowels torpid, digestion poor, her ears and temples throb and she is subject to headache, begin at once to build up her system with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Do not allow her to undergo a physical examination.
Here is a letter from a young lady who requests that her name should not be used, but gives her initials and street number so that any inquiry addressed to her will be received. She says:
"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—It affords me great pleasure to be able to say a few words in regard to the merits of your Vegetable Compound. I was tempted to try it after seeing the effects of it upon my mother, and now I feel like a new person. I am a stenographer and was troubled with falling of the womb and female weakness in general. I continued to work until I was so weak I could no longer walk, and the last day I was forced to stop and rest.
"I was then so ill that I was compelled to stay in bed, and so nervous that I could not hold anything in my hands. The least noise or surprise would cause my heart to beat so loudly, and I would become so weak that I could hardly stand. I suffered for almost a year. It is different now. I can go about my work with pleasure, while before, work was a drudge.
"Trusting that my words of praise may help some other afflicted person, and be of benefit to womankind in general, I remain, Yours in gratitude, L. E., 444 S. East St., Indianapolis, Ind."

SOME FULTON NEWS NOTES

Gossip of Interest Gathered by The Gazette Correspondent.

Oliver Murwin and son Herbie, were in Janesville, Monday, on business. Harvey Pease and Charlie Carrier are visiting the World's Fair city, this week. Aaron K. Wallen has gone to visit his wife, who is in Missouri. He will be gone a week or two. Mrs. Mary Murwin passed Friday very pleasantly in Edgerton, and Saturday in Janesville. George Johnson and M. Carrier passed Thursday in Janesville. Mrs. May Post has a niece from Jefferson staying with her this winter and attending school here. Mrs. Sue Van Sholk and son Clarence are in Evansville visiting relatives and friends for a week or two. Tobacco buyers are scarce this year and most farmers think they will have their own sorting to do and that very soon. The Postal Telegraph linemen put up the wire over this route Sunday. They were very quiet about their work and were soon through. Mark Carrier and Miss Annie Green and Willie Lee accompanied Miss Basha Pease to Rockdale, Sunday afternoon where Basha has gone to resume her duties as a teacher in that place. ## FRENCH CRIMINAL LAW REFORM

Great Satisfaction Is Felt That It Has Been Accomplished.

Great satisfaction is expressed at the reform in the procedure of what is called "l'instruction criminelle," or the preliminary examinations of prisoners by the magistrates described as judges d'instruction, says the London Telegraph. Hitherto these gentlemen have had a large amount of latitude in dealing with accused persons, who were often subjected to long and terrible interrogations worthy of the grand inquisitors of old. Many a prisoner has broken down or been driven nearly frantic by the instruction process, but now parliament has sanctioned a much-needed change. For the future an accused person will have the assistance of counsel during the preliminary investigation of his case. He need not answer a single question unless his advocate be present, nor sign any paper put before him without consulting the lawyer whom he has chosen to defend his interests. Furthermore, the preliminary investigation of a case is to begin at the latest twenty-four hours after arrest and at once after summons to appear. These are the main and most important points of the new law, and it is worth noting that the minister of justice, M. Darlan, was practically made to capitulate, for he was rather averse to counsel being allowed to defend a prisoner in the early stages of magisterial interrogation.

The Bust Illusion.

One of the most ingenious of modern illusions is one wherein, by an optical illusion, the bust or upper part of the body of a living person is alone visible and is made to appear as if supported upon a stool or pedestal resting on a suspended platform, or as floating wholly above the platform without in either case any possible means of concealment for the lower part of the person being apparent to the spectator. The invention consists essentially in a trick platform so constructed that, although apparently too thin for the purpose, it will afford space for the concealment of the lower part.

Luxurious Imperial Travelers.

The height of luxurious traveling has been reached by the czar and czarina. The empress' private car is upholstered in pale blue satin. The electric lamps are all in the form of lilies, and it contains writing and tea tables made of mother of pearl. The nursery is the next apartment, and is as comfortable and handsome as the same rooms in any of the czar's palaces. There are dining rooms and drawing rooms and several sleeping apartments. In fact, this train is a miniature palace. The wheels are covered with India rubber tires.

WISCONSIN LEAF AN EXPORT CROP

THE EDGERTON REPORTER SO STATES.

Packers Want Filler Grades, Which Shows Which Way the Wind Blows—Much of This Year's Crop Is Fine—Week Was a Rather Dull One.

There is scarcely any occasion to longer disguise the fact that the trade regard the '97 Wisconsin largely an export crop, says the Edgerton Reporter. The surest indication that this is the verdict rendered lies in the hurry that has already developed among packers to secure as much of the filler grades as was possible before the general movement of the entire crops began. With the advantage of having plenty of cheap fillers as "reducers," the packers would then be able to compete on the export market and always be able to effect a sale and secure a profit in the deal as well. This explanation will account for the rush of buyers over the growing districts and their anxiety to buy fillers now at prices considerably above what is ordinarily paid for this grade of tobacco. To buy fillers simply as an investment to hold as a packing at the prices now being offered, could hardly be considered a good business proposition, but when taken in connection with a prospective export deal, the explanation is easy.

Some Fine Leaf

There is unquestionably a certain per cent of the '97 crop that is really fine tobacco—fully up to the standard of the '96—though nearly every grower has a tail end to his crop that makes the buyer hesitate before offering a round price for the entire crop. Then again there is an occasional crop of very good B's, or some portions of crops containing tobacco that will answer the requirements of this grade. Some dealers are of the opinion that the most satisfactory way to handle this crop is to buy in the bundle when the grades can be separated into two or three different packings. A good portion suitable for the domestic binder trade could be secured. The shorts or B's could be properly sorted as the trade demands, and the balance cheaply handled for the export market. It is not probable, however, that the large operators will care to engage in warehouse handling of the present crop. They have an idea that the tobacco can be purchased just as well after the growers have it in cases, and escape the cost of handling and shrinkage. Large quantities can then be moved more rapidly, and even though the profits be small, the aggregate business would be satisfactory. If their theory be correct, but little of the crop will then be saved for the domestic use, as the growers will hardly keep the grades as distinct as would be adopted in warehouse handling.

Another Dull Week.

This is another dull week in the local tobacco market so far as old leaf is concerned, and movements that have come to the surface embrace only moderate transactions. The Reporter continues: The McIntosh Brothers purchased about 75 cases of old stock from first hands. George Rumlill of Janesville, bought 50 cases of such a matter, and has disposed of as many in small lots.

Dealers are picking away at the new crop in a few sections, mostly searching for fillers though some round crops are taken when they can be secured at from 4 to 5 cents in the bundle. Conway Brothers have bought about 100 cases at these figures, some of which is being delivered, and sorting has commenced at their warehouse. Crops are weighing out well, some reaching nearly 2000 pounds to the acre.

The following sales have reached as since the last issue:

George Osmun, 4a at 6 and 1c.
C. Carlson, 5a at 5 and 1c.
Clark Pierce, 5a at 5 and 1c.
H. Kampstead, 4a at 5 1/2 and 1c.
Ole Larson, 6a at 5 1/2 and 1 1/2c.
And Serna, 5a at 4 1/2 1c.

The thaw early in the week brought the hanging tobacco again into case and growers have had an opportunity to take down the balance of their crop and complete their stripping.

The shipments out of storage reach about 10 carloads, 470 cases for the week to all points. Since last report 1,100 cases of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

PLANS for the Burns Festival, Tuesday, Jan. 25 have been completed. Among the entertainers will be Mrs. Meek, the elocutionist and ventriloquist; Fred G. Duthie, tenor; Caroline B. Gardiner, soprano and William McCormick, the whistler who charms birds out of tall trees.

GEO. ELLMAN, formerly of J. Spivak's, has decided to go in the fruit and candy business for himself. With the experience in his line and his popularity in the city for honesty and reliability, his many friends wish him success in his new venture. The locality and time of opening will be announced in due time.

THE Gazette cannot notice anonymous letters, no matter how much it may favor the plan proposed therein. Several have been received of late, having a bearing on several different subjects, but this item is the answer to all received, and to all that may be received in the future. The sincerity of the writer of an anonymous letter is always questionable, and The Gazette cannot assume responsibility for the beliefs or statements of unknown persons.

J. O. ROBERTSON, manager of the Trulson & Peterson stock, is busy arranging goods for special sale. By Saturday everything will be in readiness for the supplying of shoe customers with bargains to better advantage than heretofore. The entire stock of boots, shoes, rubbers, felts, overs and warm goods of all kinds is to be closed out as soon as possible. Prices are reduced to below cost to hurry matters. The old firm has always carried a fine line of footwear, and economical buyers will be able to find just what they want, for a small amount of money. The earlier you come the better bargains you will find.

WHILE in Chicago yesterday I had the opportunity to buy a big lot of hats and shirts at 50 cents on the dollar and as both lines were of such excellent worth, the deal was soon closed. The hats are the production of a leading maker and comprise every size in fedoras and derbys, regular values are up to $3 but they will go into the sale of the Holmes' stock at a choice for $1. The shirts were bought on condition that the name be not used in advertising, as they are a standard and popular brand, which retail at $1.25. They are all-white body with fancy bosom, are full 36 inch length, have liak cuffs to match, open front and back, sizes 14, 14 1/2, 15, 15 1/2, 16 and 16 1/2. They will be found in the Holmes store, and the price will be 65 cents each or $1.25 a pair. Plenty to supply all, as they are 50 dozen in the box. George D. Simpson.

REGISTER OF DEEDS TO GET A SALARY

FEES TO GO TO THE COUNTY IN THE FUTURE.

Officials Will Be Paid Two Thousand Dollars Per Annum and One Half Of the Income From Abstracts—Other Salaries Fixed—Relief For Arquette Girl.

Members of the County Board of Supervisors voted this morning to place the register of deeds on a salary, instead of paying him in fees, the change to take effect January 2, 1899. The annual salary is placed at 2,000 per annum, and in addition one-half of the fees derived from the abstracts will also go to the register of deeds, the other half to be paid to the county, payments to be made monthly to the county treasurer.

It is said that lawyers hold that the county board has no legal right to take such action and that the matter may be tested in the courts.

In addition to salary of sheriff, he is to receive statutory fees for conveying all persons to the different state institutions.

The following schedule of salaries was then adopted, the same to take effect Jan. 2, 1899.

Dr. J. B. Whiting addressed the board in reference to the present serious condition of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Arquette. The girl, it will be remembered, was terribly burned some time ago. Supervisor Bowles then presented a resolution which was adopted, placing $250 at Dr. Whiting's disposal, the money to be used in treating the child at St. Mary's hospital at Milwaukee.

Supervisor Bowles introduced a resolution that the superintendents of the poor for Rock county be instructed to pay to the Children's Home society of this state the sum of $25 for each child which shall be taken from this county by said society provided said child shall have been judged a dependent by the supervisor of the town or ward in which such child resides, the certificate of such supervisor to be sufficient authority for the payment, in each case, of the amount of compensation herein mentioned.

The sum of $75 was paid to the county clerk for services as county agent.

On motion of Sup. Bear, Justice O. N. Cronkite, of Clinton, was cited to appear before committee No. 13, at 8 o'clock a. m., January 14, with his docket, to make explanation to the committee in regard to his claims on file in the county clerk's office.

The business was wound up and adjournment was taken at 3:30 this afternoon.

Lowell Has Purchased the Leader Stock and Will Close It Out in Thirty Days.

As the paper stated a few days since, Lowell has purchased the Leader stock. It is not the first time that Lowell has given the people of Rock County the opportunity of buying the necessities of life at about half regulation prices and the sale of the Leader stock which commences tomorrow morning at seven o'clock will be one of the most famous of the entire list. All past records will be completely shattered. The stock was bought at the right price, and will be sold at the right price. The Leader prices are always considered low, but they will be high in comparison with those now inaugurated. It is true that there is not another stock in this part of the county of the same class that is anything like it either in quantity or quality. You must have become familiar by this time with the goods carried here so it is not necessary to numerate them. Lowell's ability at handling stocks at bargain prices is recognized and whenever he has made an assertion regarding them, people know that the representation is truthful in every way. Two floors are picked jam full and in order to close the stock out in thirty days bargains must be plentiful. Come early and avoid the rush. Remember the sale opens Saturday morning at seven o'clock.

HE CAN RAISE $25,000 HERE

F. E. Bell Talks About the New Telephone Exchange Idea.

F. E. Bell found Janesville a good field for operations. The Postal Register says "F. E. Bell, manager of the Portage telephone system and owner of half a dozen toll lines branching out of this city, returned from Janesville a day or two ago, where he had been in view of putting in a telephone line to rival the 'Long Distance' which now monopolizes the business there. Mr. Bell met with great encouragement of Janesville during the three days he spent there and has $25,000 capital promised to back the company about to be formed, as well as 300 subscribers for 'phones for the new line."

"Mr. Bell said that the prospects at Janesville for a big business were excellent. There is no doubt that 800 telephones will be on the exchange within three months after it is in working order, and the number will reach 1,000 before the year passes. There is a practically unlimited field for toll lines. Mr. Bell expects to get to work within a short time, but will not let the Janesville business interfere with his management of the Portage line which is constantly growing."

He now has in the neighborhood of 15,000 tons stored, it averaging a thickness of fourteen inches. The ice is taken from a pond that adjoins the brewery and which is supplied with spring water.

CLINTON OFFICERS PUT ON THE GRILL

"TRAMP QUESTION" IS INVESTIGATED.

County Board Committee "Lexows" the Justice, Marshal, and Constable at That Village and Take Their Testimony—Thought the Vagrant Bills Were Too Large.

Certain Clinton officials were called to time late yesterday afternoon by the County Board of Supervisors.

Five hundred and eighty vagrant cases at an average cost of $1.14 each to Rock county, is the record that Clinton sends in for the year beginning Jan. 1, 1897, and ending Jan. 1, 1898.

The committee decided that Clinton officials should be asked for an explanation to Chairman Wider, the committee, and District Attorney W. A. Jackson. Armed with the necessary papers Sheriff Acheson boarded the 7:20 train last evening for Clinton where he served the same on Justice of the Peace Cronkite, Constable A. Baldwin and Marshal George W. Earle. The papers required their appearance before the county board committee in this city at a special session to be held at the court house yesterday. The early morning train brought the three gentlemen in question to Janesville; at 10 o'clock this morning, the investigation commenced. District Attorney Jackson, after briefly stating the facts in the case, asked Justice Cronkite to take the stand. His testimony was in swearing to the records offered, and the general method of doing the business.

Marshal Earle then took the stand, and swore as to the method he employed in arresting and locking up vagrants.

Arrested Same Man.

In his testimony Marshal Earle admitted that he had arrested the same man at different times, but each time under a different name. It was then shown that this little ceremony resulted in the following fees for each man arrested:

Justice fee.....$0.50

Marshal or constable fee.....50

Two meals.....20

Cost of returns made.....24

Total.....$1.14

He then stated that after allowing a tramp to remain in jail over night, he would then take him before Justice Cronkite, who would then order him out of town.

Constable Baldwin was the last man to take the stand.

"If I ever charged the county with two meals for a vagrant, that man received his two meals," said the constable in a tone of voice that indicated that he meant what he said.

The examination ended at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon and the Clinton officials returned home to await results of the investigation.

Members of the committee on fees are indignant over the report from Clinton and denounce the same as an outrage. They say not one of these 580 vagrants has been brought to the county jail to serve out his time, but instead he has been given his liberty in Clinton after having remained in jail one night. Officers now only receive five cents a mile traveling expenses.

Members of the county board say that they intend to remedy this state of affairs for all time to come.

The bills were held over for further consideration.

A SCORCHER CURED.

The Standwell Wheelers were annoyed. Half of them, the fastest men in the club, had been to supper at Dicky Carmichael's rooms and were sitting round discussing the situation, with the assistance of Dicky's cigarettes.

"Yes," Carmichael was saying, "I admit he can ride and ride well. It isn't his pace I object to; it's his confounded conceit about it. Soon after he came here I spoke to him about joining the club, and what do you think the fool said? You all know his beastly drawl. 'Well—er—don't think I shall, thanks. Fact is, doncherknow, I like to shift when I'm out. Can't stand crawling at any price.' There's an inflated idiot for you!"

"He passed us when we were out last night," said Royton, "and we couldn't, one of us, hang on to him. He knew it too. He's done that once or twice, and it's only just to show off, I know."

"I was out alone on Wednesday," chipped in Teddy Blane, the club sprinter, "and he caught me up and looked round with that confounded smile of his as he passed. You bet I wasn't going to let him walk away without an effort; but, as you fellows know, I'm better at short distances, and after making it pretty warm for about a couple of miles I had to throw it up."

Far away down in the depths of an easy chair several sizes too big for him sat little Pat Armstrong. Up to the present he had been silent, but now looking up at his companions he said, in his lazy sort of way, "My dear fellows, I've an idea."

There was a general laugh.

"By Jove! Hark at it!"

"Look at what's got an idea!"

"Stick to it, Pat; it's the only one you'll ever get."

They listened, while he laid his plan before them, and for an hour they talked earnestly together. Then at midnight struck they broke up and departed chuckling over the scheme which Pat had devised.

It was a September evening a week later, and the fast gathering twilight cast a dim obscurity over the landscape, when up a hill, at the foot of which lay the little town of Standwell, came a rider.

On reaching the top of the hill the rider paused a moment to regain his breath. As he sat up in his saddle he heard the sound of cycle wheels and turning his head saw another rider, who had evidently ascended the hill close behind him.

This one presented a striking appearance, for with the exception of shoes and stockings he was clothed completely in white—a white calico jacket with loose knickers of the same material, and on his head a large, soft wide awake of white felt. This latter was pulled so far forward that the rider's face was completely hidden, but it was evident that he was a member of the Standwell Wheelers, for the club badge was displayed conspicuously on the side of his headgear.

The scorchers, however, had but little time to take note of his companion's appearance, for before he was aware of it the white rider, going at a great pace, shot past him and gained a lead of some dozen yards. The scorchers' spirit was roused within him, for it was his boast that he allowed no one to pass him on the road. So, bending low over his handle, he pedaled furiously to regain the lead and soon overtook and passed the Standwell man. The latter, however, at once replied by a sprint which again gave him first position. This was a direct challenge. There could be no mistake about that. The scorchers were amazed. Did a Standwell Wheeler dare to challenge him? Very well, then. That man must learn that no member of the despised club could hope to keep pace with him. So, getting well over his work, he settled down to business and going for all he was worth again passed his opponent.

The pace grew warmer, and on they went, on, on, until trees and hedges seemed to the riders but a blur of green, so terrific was the speed at which they went. Faster and faster over the dusty road, going as though the fiends were behind them, no sound breaking the stillness but the whirr of the flying wheels and the click of the chain over the cogs. And the white rider still hung on. Fear took hold of the scorchers and a sickening dread came upon him. Was he, the unbeaten, now to find his match from among the members of that club which he had so openly derided? Perish the thought! He glanced over his shoulder and found that his pursuer had fallen back a dozen yards or so. But this gave him no hope, for during their ride (and they had now come five miles) the white figure had repeatedly dropped away, only to reappear shortly close behind him. And so it was this time. In a minute or two he again took up his old position, and from his easy breathing was apparently as fresh as ever. Not so the scorchers, for used as he was to speedy shifting, the terrific pace at which they had ridden was telling upon him. Suddenly a thought struck him, and as he realized it he almost fell from his saddle. He remembered now what had hitherto escaped his memory, that this road led, with no turning whatever, straight into Standwell and right past the club headquarters. He to be beaten before their eyes and by one of their own riders! It would be eternal degradation to him who had made it his boast that he was faster than their fastest. What would he not give to escape the humiliation which seemed in store for him, and for the first time in his life he longed for a puncture.

The headquarters of the club were now but half a mile distant. On fly the pair and in a few seconds the building is in sight. The scorchers' heart sinks within him as he feels his opponent draw up level with him and to all appearances as fresh as at the start. Until now his eyes have been fixed to his front wheel, but now he glances ahead, and, oh, horror, sees a crowd of members assembled round the entrance of the club. Oh, the degradation of it to him, who had so boasted of his powers! In another second comes the climax, for his opponent shoots ahead, and, flying past the club, leading by lengths, sits up, and, turning round, lifts his hat gracefully, revealing the features of the Flea. He, that youngster of all others, to defeat the hitherto unbeaten scorcher! The defeated one stays not, but with the derisive laughter of the club ringing in his ears pedals home a sadder and a wiser scorcher.

There was another supper that night, this time at the clubrooms, and if the scorcher could have present his feelings would have puzzled an analyst.

At the end of the long apartment were stacked six bicycles, light road racers, and on their saddles were hung six white wide awakes. At the head of the table sat six figures, all clad in white and all of very similar build. With these six lay the explanation of the scorcher's defeat, and now to his clubmates, who up to the present had been in ignorance as to the method employed, knowing only that he who had scoffed at them so often had been overcome, Pat Armstrong was holding forth.

"Well, you see, boys, we devised this little business about a week ago and, knowing which way he was riding, put it into force this evening. Fact is, each of us took a mile apiece, so don't give me all the honor. We took up our positions with our jiggers all the way along the road, either behind trees or gates, and as one of us dropped out another took the beggar on and went 'all out' until he came to the next man, who did ditto. I tell you it was fun—grand fun. Of course we all looked alike to him, and he's run off with the idea that I took him on for six solid miles and then licked him. Poor chap!"

And amid a general roar of laughter he sat down, but they picked him and the rest of his crew up and carried them shoulder high round the room, cheering till all were blue. Then the whole club swore eternal secrecy, and no whisper of the unholy scheme by which he was defeated ever reached the ears of the speed boaster. But he scorches now no more, and the Standwell Wheelers are avenged.—Cyclist.

Winter Underwear.

Opinions differ as to the comfort derived from the different materials from which underwear is made, but there is one thing which admits of no doubt, and that is that while silk is exceedingly warm, soft and pleasant to the flesh it is at the same time by no means the healthiest substance for the undergarment. In proof of this practical observation has demonstrated that silk stockings will make the toughest and healthiest feet moist, wet and tender, until walking becomes painful. A silk scarf worn around the neck next to the skin will in nine wearers out of ten produce sore throat. Silk makes the neck hot and moist, and the first stray breath of cool air that strikes the skin feels like a drop of iced water and will produce a cold. Silk seems to have the faculty, as contrasted with wool, of opening the pores and inciting perspiration, and if it will do this with the feet and neck there is every reason to believe that it will produce equal susceptibility to cold when worn about the chest and limbs. Those who wear silk stockings invariably have tender feet.

The rule that applies to the male applies equally to the female. Silk underclothing may be very comfortable, but perhaps the advocates of dress reform would do as much good if they would discuss carefully the hygienic value of the material, as well as the cut and style of the undergarment. — New York Ledger.

Negroes With Red Hair.

"A man sees lots of funny things while traveling around the country, but the most peculiar sight I ever saw was in Omaha the last time I was there," said Charles Killinger of Cincinnati. "While walking along the street there recently I saw two negroes with hair as red as any red hair you ever saw. It was as kinky as the negro wool usually is. It was a funny sight, and I stopped to look at them as they went down the street. A friend of mine who resides there told me those negroes had come from the south some years ago, and, as far as he knew, were full blooded darkeys. Six fingered people are not uncommon, but for freaks those darkeys took the cake." — Denver Republican.

Pitiful Object.

"Yes," said young Softleigh, "I like to see a smart, well educated woman, but I wouldn't care to marry one who knew more than I did."

"I'm very sorry," replied Miss Cutting, "to hear that you have resolved to remain a bachelor all your life." — Chicago Record.

SING A SONG.

If you'll sing a song as you go along,
In the face of the real or the fancied wrong,
In spite of the doubt if you'll fight it out,
And show a heart that is brave and stout;
If you'll laugh at the jeers and refuse the tears,
You'll force the ever reluctant cheers
That the world denies when a coward cries,
To give to the man who bravely tries.
If you'll win success with a little song—
If you'll sing the song as you go along!

If you'll sing a song as you plod along,
You'll find that the busy, rushing throng
Will catch the strain of the glad refrain;
That the sun will follow the blinding rain;
That the clouds will fly from the blackened sky;
That the stars will come out by and by.
And you'll make new friends till hope descends
From where the placid rainbow bends.
And all because of a little song—
If you'll sing the song as you plod along!

If you'll sing a song as you trudge along,
You'll see that the singing will make you strong.
And the heavy load and the rugged road,
And the sting and the stripe of the tortuous goad

Will soar with the note that you set afloat;
That the beam will change to a trifling mote;
That the world is laid when you are sad
And bright and beautiful when glad;
That all you need is a little song—
If you'll sing the song as you trudge along!

Some idea of the size of Alaska may be formed when it is known that it contains an area of 577,390 square miles. This is more than twice the area of Texas. ### Growth of Girls and Boys.

It is not often supposed that, as a rule, boys in growing keep ahead of girls, but a recent measurement of very many children of both sexes is against this conclusion. The boys, up to their eleventh year, were found to run about a quarter to half an inch taller than the girls. They were then overtaken by the girls, who surpassed them in height till their sixteenth year, when the boys again grew faster than the girls and came to the front.

The insurance company, however, refuse to pay the claim until a certificate of death is presented.

AT the mass meeting held in Sheboygan, Tuesday evening, the advancement association was authorized to take the steps necessary to connect that city with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road. A company will be formed and as much money as possible raised, after which the city will be asked to vote $50,000 bonds for the project. Random Lake is the point thought best to join the St. Paul road.

Dickens Not Good Enough.

OF the remaking and unmaking of books there is apparently as little end as of their making. We have already seen the expurgator at work on "Oliver Twist," and now it is the harmless-looking "Sketches by Boz" which are to be torn to pieces. The authorities at Darlinghurst jail, in Sydney, Australia, declare that thirty pages of this book are unfit for prisoners to read and have accordingly cut them out of the copy in the jail library.

The "White Woman."

IN some parts of Germany, particularly in Bohemia, some most extraordinary tales are reported of the "white woman." This celebrated ghost is supposed to represent a woman of very modest appearance, excessively tall, and her dress entirely white. She is never seen without a very long veil reaching nearly to her ankles, and which is of such an impervious nature that no person has ever been able to obtain a glimpse of her features. On one single occasion, however, it is reported that she condescended to lift up her veil, when such a blaze of beauty burst upon the astonished beholder that he was actually rooted to the spot for a considerable time. The lady never leaves her subterranean or her celestial abode but for the charitable purpose of informing an individual of his approaching death. Thus it is very common to say in some parts of Germany, "the white woman" has visited him, meaning thereby that all hopes are vanished of a recovery, and there are not a few in that country who pay little or no attention to the declaration of the physician respecting the immediate dissolution of the patient until it has been ascertained whether the white woman has paid her foreboding visit.

A Peculiar Ear of Corn.

AN ear of corn which Patrick Cullen believes to be worth a small fortune is being carefully preserved by that individual, who recently found his prize on Farmer Upright's place at Merion Square, Montgomery county. To the ordinary city man there is really nothing remarkable about the ear of corn. Its kernels are not of solid gold, nor are there any diamonds concealed about the cob. Its value lies in the fact that somewhere at some time or other some agricultural society offered a reward of $1,000 to any one who would find a perfect ear of corn, with the kernels growing in an uneven number of rows. It has always been found that the rows are even, say ten, twelve or fourteen to a cob. This ear which Patrick Cullen found, however, shows thirteen rows around the butt and eleven around the middle of the cob. Many farmers to whom Cullen showed his prize assured him that the ear was as perfect as it could be and that it was really a curiosity. Cullen is now looking for the agricultural society which offered the $1,000 reward.—Philadelphia Record.

Webster's Weakness.

IN an article on Daniel Webster in Harper's Magazine, Carl Schurz writes: "The cause of this steady succession of failures (to obtain the presidential nomination) may have been partly that the people found him too unlike themselves—too unfamiliar to the popular heart—and partly that the party managers shrunk from nominating him because they saw in him not only a giant but a very vulnerable giant, who would not 'wear well' as a candidate. They had, indeed, reason to fear the discussions to which in an excited canvass his private character would be subjected. Of his moral failings those relating to money were the most notorious and the most offensive to the moral sense of the plain people. In the course of his public life he became accustomed not only to the adulation, but also to the material generosity of his followers. Great as his professional income was, his prodigality went far beyond his means, and the recklessness with which he borrowed and forgot to return betrayed an utter insensibility to pecuniary obligation. With the coolest nonchalance he spent the money of his friends and left to them his debts for payment. This habit increased as he grew older, and severely tested the endurance of his admirers. So grave a departure from the principles as common honesty could not fail to cast a dark shadow upon his character, and it is not strange that the cloud of distrust should have spread from his private to his public morals. The charge was made that he stood in the senate advocating high tariffs as the paid attorney of the manufacturers of New England. It was met by the answer that so great a man would not sell himself. This would have been enough. Nevertheless the offenders were grievously embarrassed when the fact was pointed out that it was, after all, in great part the money of the rich manufacturers and bankers that stocked his farm, furnished his house, supplied his table and paid his bills.

A King's Memory.

THE recent distribution of prize awards of the Brussels exhibition was an elaborate function; all the cabinet officers, many high diplomatic personages and all the exhibitors were present. The king presided, having at his side the Princess Clementine, the Count of Flanders and Prince Albert. The minister of commerce was about to begin his speech, when the king began to speak earnestly with Prince Albert. Suddenly a look of surprise passed over his face; he pulled his handkerchief out and tied it into a knot, and said, smiling, "That's what I do to remind myself." Then he put his handkerchief back into his pocket, and the minister, who had paused to see what his royal highness was about, went on with the function.—New York Tribune.

In the Store.

THE Springfield Republican tells of a clerk in a Springfield store who had sweet revenge the other day on a woman who had annoyed him. She wanted to look at baskets, and for that purpose the clerk took from the shelves a large assortment, until all but two were scattered over the counter. The woman did not want to buy, so she turned away, making the excuse: "I only came in to look for one of my friends." The clerk felt rather exasperated, and replied: "Madam, if you have the slightest idea that your friends are in either of these two baskets on the shelves, I shall be pleased to take them down for you to examine."

Merely Shopping, Not Purchasing.

SUPERINTENDENT—"I think that lady over there is not being properly waited upon." Floorwalker—"Oh, she doesn't want to buy anything. Everything that has been shown her she has declared perfectly lovely. She hasn't found fault in the least with anything."

Unless He Has to Write It.

HE—"The sum of woman's happiness may be put into three words—I love you." SHE—"And the sum of man's happiness may also be expressed in three words—Pay to bearer."—Chicago News.

MAY GOST HER DEARLY.

Connecticut Heiress Elopes and Now Has to Fight for Fortune.

There is a possibility that Mrs. Ruby Bennett Kately of Bridgeport, Conn., may lose a fortune of $70,000, or at least a large portion of it, through her hasty marriage with Frank Kately, a fresco painter. Ruby Bennett was an orphan, and her aunt, Mrs. C. M. Beers, took care of her. Ruby came of age a few days ago and went to her lawyers to take possession of her fortune. James Staples, Mrs. Kately's trustee, has been paying the income of the property to her regularly. He would have turned over her fortune had not Mrs. Beers attached the money and served Mrs. Kately with the papers in a suit for $25,000 damages for breach of contract. Mrs. Beers claims that in 1893 she and Ruby entered into a contract to build a house and to maintain it together. They did build a fine house on Washington avenue. But unluckily, in 1896, a New York fresco painter, Frank Kately, went to the house to add to the beauty of its interior. He frescoed Cupids, doves and posies all over the ceiling, and Mrs. Beers was so much interested in him and his work that she gave him a gold watch. Miss Ruby was interested in the fresco painter, too, although he was 45 and has been divorced. One fine night Miss Ruby jumped out of a window and eloped with the frescoer, who knew Cupid so well he could paint the mischievous boy from memory. Mrs. Beers sent the police after her niece, but not in time, for Miss Ruby went to New York with Kately and married him. Mrs. Beers has since lived in the house with the doves and the posies. But to maintain herself she has to take boarders.

To Cure Nervous Dyspepsia.

To Gain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and spring remedies; the real seat of the mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspepsia often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others the kidneys are affected; in others the bowels are constipated, with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No. 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable result. They sometimes gave temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a bookkeeper with little physical exercise, but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better, and am better in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual fact."

Respectfully yours,

A. W. SHARPER.

The Following Letter Received by the Undersigned Druggists Explains Itself:

GENTLEMEN: Dr. A. D. Ballentine of the famous Hahnemann College of Philadelphia—graduated under the instructions laid down by Hahnemann, the father and founder of true Homeopathy—after years of study, experience and practice in the great hospitals of the East, prepared a list of True Homeopathic Cures, which he is offering to the public at the uniform price of 25 cents each. It is the desire, however, of Dr. Ballentine that the suffering in every community have an opportunity of thoroughly testing these remedies absolutely free of cost, and for that purpose we forward each of you eight dozen full size bottles of Dr. Ballentine's famous Rheumatism Cure—prescription No. 30—to be given away by you to the afflicted of your community on some near future date absolutely free of charge.

This famous discovery of Dr. Ballentine is curing thousands daily in all stages and conditions of Rheumatism. It brings relief from the excruciating pain and agony in an almost incredibly short time and statistics gathered from thousands of Rheumatic sufferers prove absolutely that there are very few cases, indeed, that are not permanently cured before the second bottle is all taken.

Fully realizing that there is but one thorough way to place before all the people at once a knowledge of these true cures and this free distribution at your stores, that is through the press, if you desire to do so, we extend you herewith permission to cause this letter to be published in a paper in your city.

Very truly,

January Cloak Business..

Is good--better than usual in this month, but whether it is because there's more money in circulation or that we are giving better values than ever before, we cannot tell. Certain it is that business in the cloak department reminds us of the busy times during early season. Of course there are many reasons why women are buying cloaks at this time, the most important being that the new and stylish coats which have been priced at $9 to $15 can be bought today at $5.00, and coats which have been up to $7.50 are now down to $2.87. This applies to misses' jackets as well as to ladies' garments, whether jackets or capes.

It is well to have in mind that the line of new, stylish garments which we show at this time is larger and more complete than the average store shows at the beginning of a season. For large women we have plenty of good coats in 40, 42, 44 and 46 bust measure at both the above prices—$2.87 and $5.00.

Gaiter Leggings--For ladies, misses and children in six sizes, made of black jersey cloth, with buttons and straps. Prices 75c to $1.35 according to size. No gaiter on the market to equal them for warmth.

Fleece Lined Hosiery--Have all sizes, in two qualities for ladies—25c and 35c, and at the prices they are excellent value. For children, have a line, sizes 6 to 9 1/2, at 10c and 12 1/2c

All lines of Winter Goods are priced low.
